We are all honored to celebrate your success today.

You — our undergraduate, graduate, and professional students — have earned your way to this celebratory day. Our world-class faculty and dedicated staff have guided you as you've navigated the marketplace of ideas with diligence and curiosity. The hard work and creativity that have served you well during your time at Carolina will no doubt continue to support you as you step into the next chapter.

To the family and friends who have supported these graduates throughout their Carolina journey, thank you for valuing their education — you have instilled lifelong lessons of dedication and perseverance. Your encouragement and assistance helped our students reach this milestone.

To our graduates, I hope you never forget what you've learned during your time at Carolina. As a passionately public university, service to North Carolina and beyond is the heart of our work and our legacy. As you leave here today, you will be stepping into a world that needs you to solve problems and overcome obstacles.

Remember to stay in touch with Carolina — you've built connections here that will support you throughout the years. Today, you join a far-reaching family of Tar Heels who stand ready to help you rise to the call of becoming another servant leader in our communities near and far.

We all look forward to watching you accomplish great things in the years to come.

Congratulations and Go Heels!

ALMA MATER

The words of “Hark the Sound,” UNC–Chapel Hill’s alma mater, were written in 1897 by William Starr Myers, a graduating senior. The Glee Club director asked Myers to put words to the tune “Amici,” and the song was first performed on June 2, 1897, as part of the Glee Club’s Commencement performance in Gerrard Hall.

Soon the song was almost forgotten. When a University quartet tried a few years later to remember the words, they could recollect only the first verse and the chorus of Myers’ original version. Two members of the quartet, Charles S. Mangum and Charles T. Woollen, added two verses to the one they remembered. Mangum later became a professor in the School of Medicine, and Woollen worked as the University’s business manager and comptroller.

HARK THE SOUND

Hark, the sound of Tar Heel voices
Ringing clear and true,
Singing Carolina’s praises,
Shouting N.C.U.!

Hail to the brightest star of all!
Clear its radiance shine!
Carolina, priceless gem,
Receive all praises thine.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

ZENA CARDMAN

---

Carolina alumna Zena Cardman was selected as a NASA astronaut in 2017. Since completing initial training, she has supported real-time station operations and development for lunar surface exploration.

For her first space flight, she is the commander of NASA's Crew-9 mission, a recently announced four-person crew that will launch on a SpaceX Dragon to the International Space Station later this year. The group will join an international crew onboard ISS as part of Expeditions 71 and 72. They will conduct a wide range of operational and research activities during their long-duration mission.

Cardman earned a bachelor of science in biology in 2010 and a master of science in marine sciences in 2014 from UNC-Chapel Hill. During her time at Carolina, she was heavily involved in research of microbial systems, particularly in extreme environments like hydrothermal vents and hydrocarbon seeps. Her research took her all over the world, including the Arctic and Antarctic.

Cardman returned to campus in 2019 for University Research Week, where she reflected on her student and NASA experiences. She is grateful to join the Carolina community again in celebration of the next generation of leaders. When thinking about the future for the Class of 2024, Cardman hopes graduating students are able to hang on to the present for a bit longer and focus on the experiences and relationships they've built during their time as Tar Heels.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

MICHELLE CHANTAL DORRANCE

Doctor of Arts

---

Michelle Dorrance is a world-renowned dancer and choreographer. A MacArthur Foundation “genius grant” recipient, she has been described by The New Yorker as “one of the most imaginative tap choreographers working today.”

Dorrance’s New York-based tap company, Dorrance Dance, aims to honor tap dance’s uniquely beautiful history and tradition while pushing the boundaries of the art form technically, rhythmically, and conceptually. The company is committed to honoring the American roots of tap and its history in the enslaved and immigrant communities of this country. In Dorrance’s own words, “to be a professional tap dancer is to be a historian.”

A native of Chapel Hill and alumna of the North Carolina Youth Tap Ensemble, Dorrance has maintained strong connections with the Triangle community. Her company has been featured in Carolina Performing Arts seasons multiple times, including in the award-winning The Blues Project with artist-in-residence Toshi Reagon. In 2022, Dorrance spoke and danced as part of the University’s Eve Marie Carson Lecture Series.

Dorrance is a graduate of New York University and has performed in STOMP, taught at Broadway Dance Center, and guest lectured at universities and dance festivals around the world. Her many awards and honors include the New York Dance and Performance Award (“The Bessie”), Princess Grace Award, Jacob’s Pillow Dance Award, Ford Foundation Art of Change Fellowship, and Doris Duke Artist Award.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

DEITRE ALLEN EPPS

Deitre Epps is a longtime champion of pursuing equity and community well-being through education, training, and technical assistance for health, human services, and education leaders. Epps is founder and CEO of R.A.C.E. (Results Achieved through Community Engagement) for Equity, a Durham-based organization that helps nonprofits, government agencies, and other groups center equity in their work and strengthen their leadership capacity and cultural responsiveness.

A graduate of Howard University and Coppin State University, Epps began her career as a co-founder, director, and assistant dean of education for Vision Christian Academy and Child Development Center, a Baltimore-based school for infants to school-age students. She also served as director of Baltimore's highly successful School Readiness Initiative.

Epps has facilitated numerous cross-cultural conversations in the development of multi-sector community and organizational plans, and she has provided capacity-building for federal and state government agencies, universities, philanthropic, faith-based, and nonprofit organizations to support measurable improvement for people and communities.

Epps is known as an adroit, dynamic, and culturally responsive leader whose work spans the globe. Her current efforts focus on promoting well-being by addressing the social determinants of health, including structural racism. She often partners with faculty and students at the Gillings School of Global Public Health to advance equitable, culturally competent strategies to improve the long-term health of communities and individuals.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

HOWARD N. LEE

Doctor of Laws

A highly esteemed North Carolinian, Howard Lee has rendered outstanding service to the state and this university in numerous ways over more than six decades.

The son of a Georgia sharecropper, Lee graduated from Fort Valley State College before enrolling as a graduate student at Carolina, where he earned a master of social work in 1966. Three years later, he was elected mayor of Chapel Hill, becoming the first African American to be elected mayor of a majority-white Southern city since Reconstruction. After serving three terms, Lee was appointed as North Carolina's Secretary of Natural Resources and Community Development, a post he held from 1997 to 1981. As secretary, Lee delivered a speech calling for a "state trail from the mountains to the coast, a trail leading through communities as well as natural areas"—an idea that sparked the Mountains-to-Sea Trail that stretches from the Great Smoky Mountains to the Outer Banks.

Lee was later elected to the North Carolina Senate, where he served for a decade. He subsequently served as chair of the North Carolina State Board of Education and as a member of the state's Utilities Commission. In 2009 he was named the first executive director of the North Carolina Education Cabinet. Lee's service to higher education included a stint on the faculty of the UNC School of Social Work and of North Carolina Central University, and he was an administrator at Duke University. Throughout his career, Lee has been a strong advocate for education reform, fighting for increased funding and standards.

In 2008, Lee published The Courage to Lead, One Man's Journey in Public Service, a memoir in which he shares how he survived the Jim Crow South and broke racial barriers as he rose to a position of political prominence and power. In 2011 Lee was recognized with the General Alumni Association's Harvey E. Beech Outstanding Alumnus Award.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

RICHARD YATES STEVENS

Doctor of Laws

---

Richard Stevens is an attorney, a distinguished public servant and a triple alumnus of UNC-Chapel Hill who has served the state and university in numerous ways.

During his five terms as a North Carolina state senator, Stevens was the senior budget leader under both Republican and Democratic majorities. He worked across the aisle to ensure effective governance and fought to preserve funding for higher education during the Great Recession. Before his election to the state legislature, he served for 16 years as the county manager of Wake County, overseeing a time of significant growth.

Stevens' service to Carolina spans decades. He served on the UNC-Chapel Hill Board of Trustees from 1995 to 2003 and again from 2017 to 2021, including four terms as chair. Over the years, he has served as chair of the UNC-Chapel Hill Endowment Fund, UNC-Chapel Hill Foundation, UNC General Alumni Association, and Board of Visitors for the UNC Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Stevens earned B.A., M.P.A., and J.D. degrees from Carolina. Scholarships at the School of Law and the School of Government have been established in his honor. In 2017 he received the University's Distinguished Alumnus Award. Stevens has received numerous other awards, including the UNC General Alumni Association Distinguished Service Medal, American Society for Public Administration's Public Service Award, Order of the Long Leaf Pine, William Richardson Davie Award, and North Carolina Chamber of Commerce Award for Distinguished Public Service.

CEREMONY DETAILS

THE CHANCELLOR'S MEDAL

The chancellor's medal, an emblem of the office of chancellor, is worn during the University's ceremonial occasions. The sterling silver disk, which is three inches in diameter and seven ounces Troy weight, was given to the University by John Sanders, professor emeritus and former director of the UNC Institute of Government, and his wife, Ann Beal Sanders. Modeled by sculptor Pete Hinton and bearing the University seal, it was first worn by Chancellor Paul Hardin during the 1994 University Day convocation. The medal was recently updated with a silver chain of office that includes thin rectangles engraved with the names and dates of service of previous UNC chancellors. It also features links made in the shape of the Old Well and the Davie Poplar leaves, both icons of the Carolina campus.

THE BICENTENNIAL STAFF

The faculty marshal carries the bicentennial staff while leading the faculty procession on ceremonial occasions such as Commencement and University Day. The staff, commissioned for the University's 1993 bicentennial celebration by John Sanders, professor emeritus and former director of the UNC Institute of Government, and his wife, Ann Beal Sanders, was modeled by sculptor Pete Hinton. It consists of a sterling silver three-inch-high replica of the Old Well mounted on a turned and tapered oak shaft. The shaft was made from timber salvaged from the 1822 section of Old West residence hall during its 1991-1993 renovation.

UNIVERSITY COLORS

As symbols of unity among Carolina students, alumni and fans, the school colors of light blue and white were first used around 1800 to distinguish between members of the Dialectic and Philanthropic Literary Societies. Throughout the 19th century, students were required to be members of either the Di or the Phi. The Di's color was light blue, and the Phi's was white.

At University commencements, balls and other social events, the student officials, managers and marshals wore the color of their society, blue or white. Because the chief marshal or chief ball manager represented the whole student body, not just his society, he wore both colors.

When the University fielded its first intercollegiate athletic teams in 1888, the question of what colors to wear had already been answered. Light blue and white had come to symbolize membership in the University, not in a single society.

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

The University seal typically appears on diplomas and graduation materials, grade transcripts and documents that indicate accomplishment in or on behalf of the University.

The first seal of the University of North Carolina, designed in 1790, showed the face of Apollo and his emblem, the rising sun, used to symbolize the dawn of higher education in the state. The words "SIGUL UNIVERSITAT CAROL SEPTENT" (Seal of the University of North Carolina) surrounded the drawing.

A modification in 1895 added lighted torches of learning beside Apollo's profile. Two years later another alteration replaced Apollo's head with a shield on which the words Lux (light) and Libertas (liberty), separated by a white band running from the upper right to the lower left of the shield, appeared.

In the 1940s, some observers mistakenly claimed the white stripe on the shield was a bend sinister, a heraldic code that was demeaning. In truth, the stripe was a bar sinister and merely denoted a second or later son. Still, the direction of the stripe was reversed, removing any question of stigma.

Today's seal is the same as the 1897 version, except the stripe runs from the upper left to the lower right.

ACADEMIC DRESS

---

The following information, based in part on An Academic Costume Code and Ceremony Guide (published by the American Council on Education), may be helpful in identifying academic attire worn during UNC's Commencement exercises.

DEGREE CANDIDATES' REGALIA

The University's bachelor's gown, designed by Alexander Julian, is both Carolina blue and truly green, as in sustainably made. The fabric for the True Blue gown is made from 100 percent post-consumer recycled plastic bottles (23 bottles for each gown) and is manufactured at mills in the Carolinas. The information about the gown's sustainability is suitably printed directly on the cloth, without the use of an extra label. In addition to being dyed a custom Carolina blue color, the True Blue gowns also have a streamlined fit, with white piping along the yoke and two white panels in front. The tassels are blue and white, topped with a silver-colored Old Well medallion. An optional accessory is an embroidered white stole that the graduate may give to a parent in gratitude after the Commencement ceremony.

The untrimmed, black master's gown has a hood and an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, that hangs nearly to the ground; the back part of its oblong shape is square cut and the arc in the front is cut away. The hooded doctoral gown features three bars across each sleeve. In 1999, the Faculty Council authorized a special doctoral gown for Carolina graduates. It is Carolina blue, with facings and crossbars of dark blue outlined in white piping. The facings bear the shield of the University supported by the torches of learning.

The hoods of master's and doctoral degree candidates vary in color according to the field of study (see list on the right).

FACULTY REGALIA

Faculty wear the regalia of the institution that conferred their highest degree. The doctoral gowns are usually faced with black velvet, although the color of the velvet may vary according to the field of study. Hoods, which differ in length according to the level of the degree held, are lined with official colors of the university or college that conferred the degree, usually with one color forming a chevron pattern over the other. Some colors you will see on faculty and administrators' robes are, for example, the crimson of Harvard, the maroon of Chicago, the orange and black of Princeton, the dark blue of Yale, and the light blue and white of North Carolina.

Like the hoods of master's and doctoral degree candidates, faculty hoods are edged and bound with velvet in the color appropriate to the field of study. The colors in the hoods and gowns of faculty and administrators represent the fields in which degrees were taken.

THE BELL TOWER

The Morehead-Patterson Memorial Bell Tower was given to the University in 1931 by John Motley Morehead III and Rufus Lenoir Patterson. Its 14-bell carillon rings both manually and electronically to call students to class, provide twilight music and serenade the dispersing crowd after football games.

CANDIDATES FOR BACCALAUREATE DEGREES

MAY 2024

DEGREES WITH DISTINCTION

To graduate with distinction or with highest distinction, undergraduate students must have completed at least 45 academic hours at UNC-Chapel Hill and have an overall grade point average of at least 3.5 or 3.8, respectively.

HONORS CAROLINA

Honors Carolina is an outstanding collection of courses, special events, and learning opportunities geared toward the top students at Carolina. It is the University's way of investing in exceptional undergraduate students by providing academic and non-academic challenges and opportunities, both inside and outside the classroom. Honors Carolina students receive priority registration for more than 160 Honors courses each year. These are small classes, taught by professors who encourage classroom discussion and hands-on research.

Students who wish to graduate from Carolina "with Honors" or "with Highest Honors" must complete a senior honors thesis project in their major field(s) of study. Such students need not have been members of Honors Carolina. They must, however, meet academic eligibility standards set by Honors Carolina and the individual departments, curricula, and professional schools that sponsor senior honors thesis programs. Senior honors thesis students must complete an original and substantial research, performance, or creative project under direct supervision by a faculty advisor. Upon the completion of their projects, students must pass an oral examination or other appropriate form of evaluation.

§ Indicates candidate for degree from N.C. State University.

* Indicates probable candidate for degree with distinction or highest distinction based on grade point average going into the final semester.

+ Indicates Honors recipient.

++ Indicates Highest Honors recipient.
